02 Aug 2023

Amidst an aura of anticipation and achievement, the echoes of success reverberated through the hallowed halls of Sindhi College on the momentous day of August 2nd, 2023. The atmosphere was charged with the promise of new beginnings and the culmination of years of hard work, as we gathered in the grandeur of the Sindhi College Auditorium to celebrate the Graduation Day of the 2022-23 academic year. Distinguished by the presence of eminent luminaries and graced by the Chief Guest, Ms. Asha Meragu, Executive Director of EY Financial Advisory Services, and the esteemed Guest of Honour, Sri. Aashish Amarlall, Chairman of Sindhi College, the event bore witness to an array of extraordinary accomplishments and heartwarming moments.

The inaugural notes unfurled with enchanting resonance as Bhargav HC, a luminary of the BA realm poised on the threshold of departure, cast a spellbinding welcome in the form of a mellifluous song

The event's resonance began with an eloquent welcome address by Principal Asha N, a voice that carried the weight of shared achievement and aspiration. In her words, the milestone etched by each student's journey was illuminated, a testament to their growth and profound accomplishment. Amidst her address, the echoes of their resilience shone through, a reflection of their unyielding dedication during the challenges of the pandemic. Asha N's words united the audience, capturing the essence of their collective spirit and appreciation for the indomitable unity that defined their path. As her address concluded, a profound sense of pride and purpose lingered, setting the stage for a celebration that would honour both graduates and the enduring spirit of Sindhi College.

In a poignant and deeply resonant address, Chief Guest Asha Merugu illuminated the Graduation Day ceremony at Sindhi College with her own journey of resilience and determination. With heartfelt appreciation, she lauded the college for fostering a positive environment that nurtures growth and learning. Drawing from her personal narrative, Asha Meragu recounted her modest beginnings, having embarked on her academic journey in a government school. She spoke of the challenges that arose from choosing paths that had not been traversed by her family before – a journey marked by audacity and self-belief.

In a powerful reflection, she shared her own encounter with the perennial question of "what next." Fuelled by an unquenchable thirst for knowledge and an unwavering desire to excel, she pursued her studies with unrelenting dedication, concurrently passing both the CA and CS exams. Her life's trajectory offered a testament to the potential that resides within each individual.

Asha Merugu's speech echoed with the resounding advice to follow one's instincts and passion, even if it means treading an unconventional path. Her words encapsulated the essence of self-assured decision-making and the pursuit of excellence, while acknowledging that success is not limited to predefined norms.

Sri Aashish Amrlall, the Guest of Honour illuminated the occasion by highlighting that the average age of India stands at a youthful 29, rendering this day particularly significant in the realm of Sindhi College's achievements. He articulated with pride that the students, along with their parents, were sources of immense pride. He emphasized that having a goal is paramount, for without it, one risks aimless drifting. The Guest of Honour further illuminated that a quarter of individuals find passion in their pursuits, and he advocated the avoidance of the ceaseless rat race. Instead, he fervently encouraged the pursuit of one's passions, assuring that success would naturally follow.

The members of the Outgoing Students Governing Council were honored for their unwavering commitment in orchestrating and motivating student engagement across all activities. Distinct recognition was bestowed upon students for their exceptional contributions – accolades included recognition for the Best Outgoing Student and the highest achiever from each academic stream. In a heartfelt moment, representatives from each stream took the stage, delivering impassioned reflections that resonated with profound emotion.

The Graduation Day of 2022-23, a resounding affirmation that education, dedication, and unity are the guiding stars that lead us to greatness.
