WOMENS' DAY REPORT-28/03/2023,10:00 am

Sindhi College celebrated "International Women's Day" on Tuesday,28/03/2023 with great honour and pride, providing a time for reflection on the progress made towards gender equality and acknowledging the ongoing challenges faced by women around the world. This day provided an opportunity to honour the achievements of women while recognizing the work that still needs to be done to achieve true gender equity.

The program began with the lighting of a song and a melodious invocation by Mr. Bhargav (Student, Final Year BA). Prof. Sandesh Zephaniah (HOD, Department of Psychology) warmly welcomed all dignitaries, teaching and non-teaching fraternity.

During her speech, Prof. R. Sarvamangala, the Chief Guest of the program and Dean of the Department of Commerce at Bangalore University, emphasized the importance of economic independence for women's empowerment. She highlighted that many women are relegated to supporting roles in their families due to societal expectations, which fail to recognize the sacrifices they make. According to her, women should struggle for their own rights to achieve true empowerment, rather than relying on others to do so. She narrated the glorious struggles of Savitri Bhai Phule, an eminent women rights and social activist who was a pioneer of starting women education in India.

During her address, Principal Prof. Asha N emphasized that women's empowerment in India should focus on rural women who require real development. She highlighted that women's empowerment has become a mere slogan of urban setups. She said, true development can only happen when we reach a stage where we no longer need to discuss and talk about women's empowerment, as this would indicate that gender equality has been achieved. She highlighted the fact that men and women both together contribute equally for the achievement of this and shaping the beautiful destiny.

The Director Dr. B. S. Srikanta addressed the gathering and shared his perspective on gender equality. He stressed that individuals learn compassion from their mothers, behaviour and ethics from their fathers, and knowledge from their teachers. He emphasized the importance of creating a harmonious relationship between men and women to foster a healthy society. He also highlighted how societies have fought against disparities, citing examples such as women serving as Army Commanders and the recent decision by the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) to eliminate the disparity in remuneration for women's cricket to maintain parity with men's cricket. He underscored that day by day, women's empowerment is happening, and positive changes are being made to bridge the gender gap.

The program concluded with the vote of thanks by Prof. Subramanya, (HOD, Department of Sanskrit) and the felicitation of mementos presented to all the female teaching, non-teaching, and security personnel of the campus. The event was a resounding success, leaving the attendees with a sense of empowerment and renewed commitment to gender equality.
