Report on Environmental Conservation Camp at Nelmangala Sukrishi Farm

Date: 31st April 2024

Venue: Nelmangala Sukrishi Farm

Organizer: Mr. Bhargav H.C., Ex-President of Sindhi College

Total Number of Students : 41

Introduction: The Environmental Conservation Camp held at Nelmangala Sukrishi Farm on the 31st of April 2024 was a significant endeavor aimed at fostering environmental awareness and promoting sustainable practices among the participants. Organized by Mr. Bhargav H.C., the former President of Sindhi College, in collaboration with the National Service Scheme (NSS) and Leo Club volunteers, the event brought together students and community members in a collective effort towards environmental conservation.

Tree Plantation Activity: The day commenced with a sense of purpose as volunteers gathered to plant twenty individual tree saplings at the Sukrishi Farm. The act of planting trees symbolized our commitment to combatting deforestation and enhancing green cover. With shovels in hand and determination in hearts, participants worked together to ensure the successful establishment of these saplings, which will contribute to the restoration and preservation of the local ecosystem.

Community Engagement and Collaboration: The involvement of NSS and Leo Club volunteers exemplified the spirit of community service ingrained within the students of Sindhi College. Their active participation and dedication to environmental causes underscored the importance of collective action in addressing environmental challenges. Furthermore, the collaboration between students, faculty, and community members emphasized the synergy that can be achieved through shared goals and coordinated efforts.

Trekking Expedition and Environmental Education: Following the tree planting activity, participants embarked on a trekking expedition through the picturesque surroundings of Nelmangala. As we traversed the rugged terrain, we encountered the dry tributary river of Kaveri, serving as a stark reminder of the impacts of climate change and human activities on water resources. This experience prompted discussions on the importance of water conservation and the need for sustainable water management practices.

Throughout the trek, experts in environmental conservation and sustainable agriculture facilitated educational sessions, providing valuable insights into various aspects of environmental stewardship. Topics such as organic farming techniques, biodiversity conservation, and waste management strategies were explored, enriching participants with practical knowledge and inspiring them to become catalysts for change in their communities.

Reflection and Conclusion: The Environmental Conservation Camp concluded with a sense of accomplishment and renewed commitment to environmental stewardship. Participants departed with a heightened awareness of the interconnectedness between human activities and the environment, as well as a sense of responsibility to protect and preserve our natural resources for future generations.

In summary, the Environmental Conservation Camp at Nelmangala Sukrishi Farm served as a catalyst for environmental consciousness and action. Through tree plantation, community engagement, trekking expeditions, and educational sessions, the event fostered a holistic understanding of environmental issues and empowered participants to take meaningful steps towards sustainable living.

Acknowledgments: Special thanks to Mr. Bhargav H.C. for his visionary leadership and dedication to environmental conservation. Gratitude is also extended to the NSS and Leo Club volunteers, as well as all participants and collaborators, for their invaluable contributions to the success of the camp.

Day 5 – 17/12/23

The fifth day of our camp proved to be a testament to the growing synergy within our team. As the sun rose at 5 am, we gathered for the flag hoisting ceremony at 6 am, fostering a sense of unity and pride among us. The morning presented a unique challenge as our team ventured into assisting the chef with various kitchen tasks. Chopping vegetables and grating coconuts became unfamiliar yet exciting endeavors for all of us.

Initially, we encountered difficulties in coordinating our efforts, but as the day progressed, we found our rhythm and adapted to the demands of the kitchen. The experience not only allowed us to contribute to the camp in a meaningful way but also helped forge stronger bonds within the team. By breakfast time, we had overcome initial hurdles and successfully prepared a delicious meal for all the volunteers.

As the day unfolded, our team's cooperative skills continued to evolve. In the afternoon, we divided into two groups, with one team assisting the chef and serving volunteers, while the other took on the responsibility of washing dishes. This strategic division of labor proved effective, and within an hour, we completed our tasks, leaving us with extra time to prepare for the upcoming evening snacks and dinner.

Despite the fatigue that set in after the busy afternoon, our team persisted, demonstrating unwavering dedication. We encountered challenges and experimented with different ideas, some of which didn't go as planned. However, our collective determination and resilience prevailed, allowing us to serve the evening meals on time for all the officials and volunteers.

Reflecting on the day's accomplishments, we recognized the importance of staying calm and confident in the face of challenges. We made a collective decision to carry this spirit of cooperation and team building beyond the confines of the camp. Our commitment is not just for the duration of the event but for a lasting bond that will endure indefinitely because, as we remind ourselves, "We All Are One."

As we concluded the day, a sense of achievement and unity enveloped our team, setting the stage for the days to come. We eagerly anticipate the remaining days of the camp, confident that our strengthened teamwork will continue to make a positive impact on our shared objectives.

Day 6 – 18/12/23

The sixth day of our camp began with an early rise at 5 am, followed by the engaging flag hoisting ceremony at 6 o'clock, a tradition that continued to instill a sense of unity and patriotism among all the NSS volunteers. However, this day held a unique schedule as the cooking team remained behind while the other three teams embarked on a trekking and yoga session.

The morning's outdoor activities provided a refreshing change of pace and allowed us to connect with nature. Upon returning to the school premises, a well-deserved breakfast awaited us, setting the stage for the health check-up program scheduled for 10:30 am. The health camp site, located in Dasegowdana Doddi village, saw the collaboration of NSS volunteers, SSSAK trust, NSS Program Officer Prof. Vaiyadesh Sir, and other faculty members.

The health camp commenced with various duties assigned to NSS volunteers, such as registration, inviting village members, and issuing new and duplicate cards. The mega medical camp unfolded with active participation from villagers, and with the support of SSSAK, comprehensive medical check-ups were conducted. Common health issues identified during the camp included dizziness, giddiness, abscess, rashes, itching, fever, back pain, joint pain, headache, abdominal pain, and body ache.

The significance of health camps in rural areas was emphasized, as they play a critical role in providing medical care, raising awareness about healthcare, and promoting preventive measures. The health camp concluded at 3 pm, marking the end of a successful and impactful initiative.

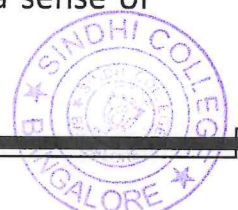

Following the health camp, three distinguished guests—Professor Subramanian, Professor Chitti Babu, and Professor Raju—joined us for the cultural event. Lunch was served, and a meeting ensued, providing an opportunity to discuss the outcomes of the health camp, acknowledging both improvements and drawbacks. Plans for the cultural event were finalized, and the evening unfolded with a series of performances, showcasing the diverse talents of the NSS volunteers.

The cultural event concluded successfully, bringing a sense of joy and accomplishment to all involved. To cap off the day, the volunteers gathered to watch a movie, providing a well-deserved moment of relaxation and camaraderie.

As we reflected on the day's events, it became evident that our efforts were making a meaningful impact on the community. The spirit of collaboration and service continued to thrive, setting a positive tone for the remaining days of our camp.

The entire experience at the camp was not just a physical journey but also a transformative one for all the NSS volunteers. The day began with a sense of unity and purpose as the team gathered at the ground for the flag hoisting ceremony at 6 am. The solemn moment of raising the flag marked the beginning of a day filled with adventure, camaraderie, and personal growth.

Once the flag was hoisted, the volunteers, energized with a sense of patriotism, proceeded to have breakfast before embarking on the trek to Ramakal Betta. The team was under the guidance of dedicated individuals, including Prof. Pooja, NCC officer Shankar Sir, Srinivas Sir, and two local villagers who played a crucial role in ensuring the safety and guidance of the volunteers during the trek.

The journey up the hills was challenging, but the spirit of teamwork and encouragement among the volunteers made the experience not only bearable but enjoyable. The breathtaking views and the natural beauty of the surroundings provided a refreshing break, allowing everyone to appreciate the serenity of the environment.

Upon reaching the summit, the villagers graciously provided lunch to the NSS volunteers, showcasing their hospitality and strengthening the bond between the volunteers and the local community. This cultural exchange added a unique dimension to the entire camping experience, fostering mutual understanding and appreciation.

After a well-deserved break, the volunteers descended from the hills safely, reflecting on the accomplishments of the day. The physical challenge of the trek served as a metaphor for the personal growth and resilience that each volunteer discovered within themselves.

As the day came to an end, the volunteers packed their belongings, expressing gratitude and bidding farewell to the villagers who had been instrumental in their journey. The journey back to the college was not just a physical return but also a symbolic journey of self-discovery and newfound leadership qualities.

The team reached the college at 6:45 pm, bringing an end to an eventful and enriching day. The memories created during the camp will undoubtedly stay with each volunteer, serving as a source of inspiration and motivation in their future endeavors. The success of the camp can be attributed to the unwavering support and guidance provided by the NSS officers, Prof. Vaiyadesh and Prof. Reethu, who played pivotal roles in shaping the volunteers into potential leaders of tomorrow.

In conclusion, the camp not only strengthened the bond within the NSS team but also fostered a deeper connection with the community. The challenges faced during the trek became opportunities for personal and collective growth, leaving the volunteers with a sense of accomplishment and pride. The entire experience was a testament to the transformative power of teamwork, resilience, and community engagement.

2nd YEAR BCOM
4TH SEM 'B'
SINDHI COLLEGE

MYSORE SANDAL SOAP FACTORY , BENGALURU

The students of 2nd year 4th sem "B" BCOM 2022-2023 Batch were taken for an industrial visit to Mysore Sandal Soap, Bengaluru established in 1916. It is the only unit in Asia registered under the government of India supplies authentic sandalwood oil extracted from the sandalwood plantations in Southern India to Karnataka Soaps and Detergents Limited (KSDL) for manufacture over 26,000 tons of sandalwood soaps every year. It is a company owned by The Government of Karnataka. The primary raw material sandal wood required for the manufacture of the sandalwood oil is obtained from Karnataka. It was also one of the major exports of the wood, most of which was exported to Europe. The sandalwood oil is used to produce Mysore Sandal Soaps, Personal care products, perfumes, cosmetics and Detergents.

Head of the factory, explained the uniqueness of the Factory and process involved in the production of sandalwood oil.

We were shown the sandalwood trees and were told the legalities involved in possessing these plants at an individual's farm or garden. He explained in detail about the different processes that go into the making of the sandalwood oil, viz, dusting of sandal wood, extraction of sandalwood oil using steam, condensation etc.

HISTORY OF MYSORE SANDAL SOAP:

The Government Sandalwood Oil factory was established by the Maharaja of Mysore His Highness Nalwadi Krishna Raja Wodeyar and Diwan Sir, M. Visvesvaraya, during the year 1916 at Mysore, to extract Sandalwood Oil from Sandalwood. The Maharaja of Mysore was keen to propel Mysore State on the Global Map, by introducing "THE WORLD'S BEST NATURAL SANDALWOOD OIL" and to make it as a "FRAGRANCE AMBASSADOR OF INDIA". The first experiment for extraction of Sandalwood oil from Sandalwood was successfully conducted in Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore, under the leadership of Prof. Suddourough and Prof. Watson. The high quality Sandalwood oil with British Pharmacopeia was introduced to the world by the Government Soap Factory, Mysore.

During the year 1918, a foreign guest presented a rare gift pack of Soaps made by using Sandalwood oil produced in our Country to His Highness, the Maharaja of Mysore. This has sparked the idea of utilizing the available natural Sandalwood oil for making soap in the home State of Mysore. Sri S.G. Shastry, who was a qualified Industrial Chemist, was sent to London for an advanced training on Soap & Perfumery technology. With the return of S.G. Shastry from London, the era of MYSORE SANDAL SOAP began. Sri S.G. Shastry has developed Sandal perfume, which was considered as a land mark in the field of soap perfuming in those days. The first indigenous SANDAL SOAP with Sandal Note as its base fragrance along with the other Natural Essential Oils consisting of Vetivert, Patchouli, Geranium, Palm Rosa, orange, Petitgrain etc. was produced and introduced in the market under the brand name of MYSORE SANDAL SOAP during the year 1918.
