Introduction: The Environmental Conservation Camp held at Nelmangala Sukrishi Farm on the 31st of April 2024 was a significant endeavor aimed at fostering environmental awareness and promoting sustainable practices among the participants. Organized by Mr. Bhargav H.C., the former President of Sindhi College, in collaboration with the National Service Scheme (NSS) and Leo Club volunteers, the event brought together students and community members in a collective effort towards environmental conservation.

Tree Plantation Activity: The day commenced with a sense of purpose as volunteers gathered to plant twenty individual tree saplings at the Sukrishi Farm. The act of planting trees symbolized our commitment to combatting deforestation and enhancing green cover. With shovels in hand and determination in hearts, participants worked together to ensure the successful establishment of these saplings, which will contribute to the restoration and preservation of the local ecosystem.

Trekking Expedition and Environmental Education: Following the tree planting activity, participants embarked on a trekking expedition through the picturesque surroundings of Nelmangala. As we traversed the rugged terrain, we encountered the dry tributary river of Kaveri, serving as a stark reminder of the impacts of climate change and human activities on water resources. This experience prompted discussions on the importance of water conservation and the need for sustainable water management practices.

Throughout the trek, experts in environmental conservation and sustainable agriculture facilitated educational sessions, providing valuable insights into various aspects of environmental stewardship. Topics such as organic farming techniques, biodiversity conservation, and waste management strategies were explored, enriching participants with practical knowledge and inspiring them to become catalysts for change in their communities.

Reflection and Conclusion: The Environmental Conservation Camp concluded with a sense of accomplishment and renewed commitment to environmental stewardship. Participants departed with a heightened awareness of the interconnectedness between human activities and the environment, as well as a sense of responsibility to protect and preserve our natural resources for future generations.

In summary, the Environmental Conservation Camp at Nelmangala Sukrishi Farm served as a catalyst for environmental consciousness and action. Through tree plantation, community engagement, trekking expeditions, and educational sessions, the event fostered a holistic understanding of environmental issues and empowered participants to take meaningful steps towards sustainable living.

Acknowledgments: Special thanks to Mr. Bhargav H.C. for his visionary leadership and dedication to environmental conservation. Gratitude is also extended to the NSS and Leo Club volunteers, as well as all participants and collaborators, for their invaluable contributions to the success of the camp.
