Max. Marks: 100

Hours of Teaching: 39-42

Objectives

We inhabit a world today that is shaped significantly by Science and Technology(S&T). S&T has enriched our lives and proved to be beneficial in our livelihoods. At the same time, many of the products of S&T pose challenges, and in ways, even threaten the existence of societies. This course, meant for students of the humanities/commerce streams, is to provide an overview of the nature of S&T and its interaction with society. It is meant to provide a broad introduction to the most significant discoveries and inventions of modern science that have changed our lives and to bring into focus the need for developing a critical appraisal of the issues related to the connection of S&T with society.

Notes to the Instructor(s)

1. All the units under this syllabus may be taught by any qualified science Post-Graduate teacher. However, the units may be taught in collaboration with the concerned faculty.

2. Unit I (A): A brief introduction to science and the practice of the scientific method as it has come to be understood in the 20th century, with a historical outline that provides a flavor of the developments that led to modern science and the contributions of different civilizations in this direction.

Unit I (B): A discussion on how the discoveries of science transform to technologies and also how technologies have enabled to ask new scientific questions with suitable examples.

3. Unit II: This unit explores through specific examples, the discoveries in science that have profoundly impacted civilizations. It is to provide some basic information and introduce some of the consequences of the products of these discoveries on the safety of humans.

4. Unit III: This unit is to explore the impact of S&T on socio-economic sphere and the lives of individuals. It will also delve into environmental issues concerned with the deployment of technologies on a large scale.

Unit I: Introduction to Science:

Introduction to Banking

Bank is defined in many ways by various authors in the book on economics and commerce. It is very difficult to define a bank; because a bank performs multifarious functions may be defined in many ways according to their functions. The evolution of different types of banks, each specializing in a particular field, gives emphasis on each and every kind of bank. A general and comprehensive definition to cover all types of banking institutions would be unscientific and probably impossible. Each type of bank should have its own definition, explaining its specialized functions. Legislators have understood this difficulty and that is why the bill of exchange Act 1882 (England) defines

“A bank includes a body of persons, whether incorporated or not, who carry on the business of banking”

From this definition it is clear to us that any institution, which performs the various banking functions, may be termed as bank. But in practice it is found that many banking functions vary

Abstract:

The goal of this project is to calculate the current energy consumption at any particular organization and to propose the possible suggestions to reduce the power consumption. This project will help in bringing the awareness in people that how we can save energy. Saving energy is beneficial both for the user and provider as there is a huge gap in supply and demand ratio on power sector.

CENTRE FOR PG STUDIES

Presents

“WISSEN”

“Burgeoning Trends in Commerce and Management”

Inter-Collegiate

Paper Presentation competition on 12th March 2020.

ABOUT COLLEGE

Sindhi College is a premier institution in Bengaluru. It was established in the year 2002, under the tutelage of Sindhi Seva Samiti, with the intention of serving the human kind as their chief dictum. It is a self-financing, co-education college imparting quality education in the stream of Science, Commerce and Management offering UG and PG courses. Sindhi College is known for its academic excellence and cultural heritage. It is the perfect example of excellence in this competitive world.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

If you have defined what you really want in life and fixed your goals, then you are ready to climb the mountain of life. Sindhi College through its research centre has been motivating students to take up minor research projects along with class room learning so that they indeed go to higher altitudes in their academic careers. It is also absolutely necessary to provide a platform for researchers to present their findings and invite suggestions from peers.

-Dr. B S Srikanta

ABOUT DEPARTMENT

Centre for PG studies provides an environment to unfold the inner forte of students to develop the required knowledge and skills for achieving excellence in the field of business, so as to prepare the youth to attain managerial position in Accounting, Finance and International Business.
